

Understanding Others

Integration of Social, Cognitive and Affective Processes

Workshop 1:
Concept definitions of the phenomena theory of mind, empathy and related social behaviors in interpersonal interactions

October 11th-12th 2017

Costs: 50 €

seit 1558

Friedrich Schiller University Jena
Rosensäle, Fürstengraben 27

Organizers:
Dana Schneider & Olga Klimecki

Speakers

Shaun Gallagher

Department of Philosophy, University of Memphis, USA

“Can embodied interaction actually constitute social cognition?”

Matthias Schurz

Department of Experimental Psychology, Oxford University, UK

“On the distinction between Theory of Mind and Empathy: An evaluation of current theories based on a meta analysis of brain imaging studies”

Stephanie Preston

Department of Psychology, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, USA

“Empathy: Resolving Conceptual Issues Through a Cognitive and Neural Approach”

+ poster presentations

This workshop aims at discussing the concept definitions of the social interaction phenomena theory of mind, empathy and related social behaviors based on the research from the disciplines of philosophy, psychological science and neuroscience. A particular emphasis will be placed on the definition of the functional domains and the delineation of boundaries between phenomena.

For more information and registration:
www.understandingothers.net