

WEBINAR—The Role of Water Law in Fostering Water for Peace

Organised by AIDA in collaboration with UN-Water as part of UN-Water's World Water Day 2024 campaign "Water for Peace"

25 March 2024

10am-11:30am New York | 3pm-4:30pm Paris | 10pm-11:30pm Beijing

Register at: <https://bit.ly/4bwyqmS>

The objective of the webinar is to contribute to the UN-Water World Water Day 2024 campaign Water for Peace by addressing how water law, at the domestic and international levels, has been and can continue to be used to facilitate water as a means for achieving peace, and contribute to good water cooperation and governance. Lawyers and hydrologists will provide an interdisciplinary perspective and engage on this important topic of promoting and achieving peace through water.

Keynote Speakers

Daniella Bostrom Couffe
Communications Manager,
UN-Water

Mara Tignino
Faculty of Law, University of Geneva;
Platform for International Water Law,
Geneva Water Hub

Engin Koncagul
Senior Programme Specialist,
UNESCO World Water
Assessment Programme

Roundtable Participants

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---|
| Alice Aureli (moderator) | International Association for Water Law |
| Lindsey Blodgett | Principal Consultant and Founder, NextWave Consulting |
| Stefano Burchi | Chair, Water and Wetlands Specialist Group, IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law; Chair Emeritus, International Association for Water Law |
| Gabriel de los Cobos | Hydrogeologist and Head of Groundwater, Department of Geology, Soils and Waste of the State of Geneva, and Member of the Cross-border Commission for the Exploitation of the Geneva Aquifer |
| Laura Movilla | Lecturer in Public International Law at the University of Vigo, Spain |
| Kevin Pietersen | Southern African Development Community Groundwater Management Institute |
| Iulia Trombitcaia | Environmental Affairs Officer, Water Convention Secretariat, United Nations Economic Commission for Europe |