

Competition rules for “Old But Gold”

2024 edition – version 2.0

Organizing team and duration of the competition

The EcoInsight association in collaboration with Repair’Lab, (the association) located at Rue Sismondi 17, 1201 Geneva, hereinafter referred to as the “organizing team”, is organizing a free, no-obligation competition entitled “Old but Gold” from 25/09/2024 to 15/10/2024.

The game is accessible from the following web address:

<https://www.unige.ch/jnr/concours>

The competition is based on the EPFL competition version 1.0, licensed under CC BY-NC-SA 4.0.

Participation

Participation in the competition is subject to full acceptance of these rules.

The Old But Gold competition is open to anyone taking part in the Journée du Numérique Responsable on October 15, 2024, with the exception of the organizing team. Only one participation will be granted per person, the email address will be taken as proof. To participate, people must answer the questionnaire from the competition website. Persons who have not provided their full contact details and identities or who have provided them inaccurately will be disqualified and no winnings will be received.

Terms and conditions of participation

- Free game with no obligation to purchase, starting on 25/09/2024.
- To participate, the participant must complete the entire questionnaire. Among the questions asked, the IMEI number will be requested to certify the age of the cellphone (manufacturing date). To be considered “valid”, the cellphone must be functional and be the primary phone used by the participant.
- Participation possible until 15/10/2024 at 4 p.m.
- The designation of the winners will take place on 21/10/2024, in the presence of the management of the organizing team and several witnesses to attest to its compliance and its process, on the basis of the responses to the questionnaire (manufacturing date from IMEI number).
- An email will be sent to the winners on 21/10/2024.
- Winners must visit the Repair’Lab (Sous-Sol de l’école de Physique, 24 quai Ernest-Ansermet, 1205 Genève) to validate the age of their cell phone and collect their prize.
- The phone's battery status will be checked to ensure that the phone is the one used daily by the participant.

Use of the IMEI number and serial number

The manufacturing date will be binding and will be used to designate the winners. The IMEI is present in the phone settings, following the indication provided in the appendix. The organizing team will check the date of manufacture of the winners' phones using the IMEI and/or the serial number entered on the form.

Designation of winners and conditions of awarding process

The competition is endowed with prizes worth up to 100 chf. The winner can choose between tickets to Grütli cinemas, yearly subscriptions to La Manivelle object library, tickets to the Poche theater, tickets to the Am Stram Gram theater.

- Series 1: At least 3 prize will be awarded to each of the participants with the oldest phones.
- Series 2: At least 3 prizes will be awarded by drawing among participants with a phone aged at least 4 years (except series 1).
- Series 3: At least 5 prizes will be awarded by drawing among all participants except Series 1 & 2 winners.

Prize award

Winners must visit the Repair'Lab (Sous-Sol de l'école de Physique, 24 quai Ernest-Ansermet, 1205 Genève) to validate the age of their cell phone and collect their prize. The award date will be fixed with the winners.

If the age of the battery is not validated, participation in the competition will be cancelled.

If the winner does not present him/herself at the Repair'Lab, he/she will forfeit his/her prize and will not be entitled to any reimbursement.

Use of data

Participants, by accepting these regulations, agree to their personal information being collected by the organizing team solely for the purposes of the competition, and are essential to participate in it and the winner's designation process.

At the end of this competition, the data will be anonymized: all data concerning email addresses, IMEI and serial numbers will be deleted. The data after anonymization will be used for sustainable IT research purposes.

Responsability

The organizing team cannot be held liable due to the impossibility of contacting each winner, nor in the event of loss, theft or damage to the prize during its delivery. The organizing team cannot be responsible for any errors relating to the email address and/or contact details communicated by the people who participated in the competition.

The organizing team reserves the right, if circumstances require, to shorten, extend, modify, interrupt, postpone or cancel the competition, without liability being incurred. However, any modification will be subject to an amendment which will be posted online on the Journée du Numérique Responsable website. The organizing team disclaims all liability in the event of a malfunction preventing access and/or the smooth process of the competition, particularly due to external malicious acts.

This competition is based on the version 1.0 competition created by EPFL in 2023.

Any legal recourse is excluded.
